

Buried Two Bodies In The Same Coffin

Revolting Crime of Medicine Hat Undertaker--Discovered by Accident

Medicine Hat, March 17.—A state of affairs of a revolting nature, whereby the most sacred ideas of the community have been desecrated in a most shocking manner, was revealed yesterday, when J. J. Moore, a local undertaker, was placed under arrest charged with the hideous crime covered by section 236 of the criminal code.

The accused has the contract for burying the pauper dead from the general hospital, and on Wednesday last, having two bodies turned over to him, he placed them both in one coffin and interred them both in that manner. One body was that of the Dane, who suicided on Monday last and the other was that of Ernest R. Moore of Toronto, who had been employed by H. H. Foster on his ranch.

When young Moore came to the station, March 8th, a telegram was sent to Mr. Foster, but as his ranch is twenty miles from the station, he was unable to get into the city, arriving here about one hour after grave. This is the story which he told, and on Moore's establishment being visited, the coffin which had been purchased was found to be still there. In an endeavor to square matters Moore volunteered to take out a most expensive coffin and transfer the body to it, which he finally did. But the matter was of too great importance to be settled in this manner and Moore was arrested by Serg. Pennington on the two charges of being liable under the provisions of the criminal code referred to and also of obtaining money under false pretence from Mr. Foster. As the latter had to leave the city for a day or two, his evidence was taken last night before Geo. B. Koraesale, J.P., and the hearing adjourned until Monday.

Moore was released on $2,000 bail.

Mr. Geo. H. Shaw, general traffic manager of the C.N.R., is in the city.

The Bulletin Visited By A Disastrous Conflagration

Fire Completely Destroyed the Splendid Newspaper and Job-Printing Plant Sunday Morning--Loss Will Total $45,000 with $34,000 Insurance--Origin of Fire Probably Defective Electric Wiring Had a Long Start

The plant of the Daily Bulletin was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. To-day there is nothing within the four walls of the office, which may be valued at anything but scrap iron. Everything gone, type, machinery and stock. The loss is complete. The disaster could not have been greater, and to a less enterprising and energetic newspaper, the catastrophe would be an overwhelming one. But the four walls of the building still stand and already a gang of men are at work clearing away the debris. Within a month, with the assistance of the railways and the type and machinery men, a new plant will be installed.

The loss is estimated at $45,000, with insurance amounting to $34,000.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.

There is little doubt but the fire

NOT FROM BOILER ROOM

That the fire did not come from the boiler room is self-evident. The boiler is undamaged, some four or five tons of coal beside it were caught fire at all, and the doors on the boiler room, which were closed, were hardly scorched. The linotype machine, with two assistants, was working Saturday until 11:30 p.m., and when leaving he found that the fire had gone out and the water in the boiler was too cold to wash his hands. This is accounted for by the fact that on Saturday the Bulletin employees had quit work at 11 p.m., a Saturday half holiday having been inaugurated. The doors were all locked then and everything in good order. All these conditions and the apparent manner in which the fire worked points with almost unmistakable evidence to the work man Derby, who ran to the hall and gave the alarm. This was at exactly eight minutes to seven o'clock. By seven o'clock the brigade was at work. Chief Davidson saw it is a place that was not a place on which the chemical extinguisher could be used, and he ordered the hose. Five stories were played, three at the rear of the adjoining building on the west side and the fifth by way of a precaution.

Geo. Courie, the machinist in charge of the linotype machines, was working late Saturday night. It was a Saturday half holiday. At that time there was no sign of fire.

HAD A BIG START.

When the brigade arrived the flames were leaping from every window of both the first and second floors of the mechanical departments. The first stream was turned on from the rear. When the firemen entered the rear door, they found the steam pipe, with which the building was heated, at a white heat. This was unmistakable evidence that the fire had been burning for some time before it was discovered. Chief Davidson gave the opinion that it must have started fully an hour before the brigade reached the scene.

The fire is not mistaken in this assumption is borne out by the statement of the proprietor of the Cameron House, which is located across the bridge at the foot of the hill, in the rear of the Bulletin office. The people in this hotel clearly saw the fire a few minutes after six o'clock. That they did not give the alarm was because they imagined the brigade was already at work, basing their presumption on the fact that the smoke was becoming denser every moment.

FIRE WELL HANDLED.

It took an hour's strenuous work to get the fire under control. They were twelve firemen at work. Chief Davidson handled the conflagration well in confining it to the Bulletin office. The solid brick walls of the building, except very materially in this. Nothing could have stayed a much greater disaster had the fire got into the adjoining buildings, which are of frame construction—the Government telegraph office and A. Bruce Purvey's jewelry store. Had the fire even got a footing in the front part of the Bulletin office, it is a question if the buildings next door would not also have been destroyed.

DIFFICULTIES OF FIGHTING

It was a harder fight. The smoke was blinding and for a time it was difficult to ascertain the points of vantage from which to fight it. There was a great deal of danger in entering the building, but the firemen took this unhesitatingly. On the second floor are heavy ironing stones which might have been expected to crash through the floor at any moment. The fire was discovered by Police

Rocks Ahead For the Operators and Miners

The Adjourned Conference at Calgary Presents a Very Ugly Aspect

Calgary, March 18.—The adjourned conference between the miners and operators will meet again this afternoon. Last night nearly all the miners were in town but only one of the operators, Mr. Lewis Stockert. Although both parties refused to say much about the reason for the last adjournment, claiming that their official statement issued covered every thing for publication, they neither denied nor affirmed the following when approached by your correspondent. When the conference first met on the 4th inst., the Union representatives after they had completed their organization submitted a draft agreement to operators of the terms upon which they were likely to make a new agreement. Just at that stage of the proceedings the operators enquired if the Union delegates had come with power to act and sign agreements and to give the operators a right to decline to treat with them longer. Accordingly adjournment was necessary to enable the delegates to relate to their various unions and get in a proposal which they were likely to make a new agreement. Just at that stage of the proceedings the operators enquired if the Union delegates had come with power to act and sign agreements and to give the operators a right to decline to treat with them longer. Accordingly adjournment was necessary to enable the delegates to relate to their various unions and get in a proposal which they were likely to make a new agreement. Just at that stage of the proceedings the operators enquired if the Union delegates had come with power to act and sign agreements and to give the operators a right to decline to treat with them longer. Accordingly adjournment was necessary to enable the delegates to relate to their various unions and get in a proposal which they were likely to make a new agreement.

Now it is learned that on Sunday the Union voted as to whether authority should be granted or not and so far as can be ascertained only conditional authority was granted. This means that delegates are empowered to sign agreements only on condition of operators accepting the agreement submitted into.

It is understood that a draft agreement already submitted demands closed shop, eight hour day and containing a schedule of wages which will mean advance of about twenty per cent of all departments. From what can be gathered at present time, it seems that there is no possibility of operators accepting such agreement and this means that the meeting to be held here tomorrow will not be likely to advance work at all, as the operators will likely refuse to treat on such terms. The authority granted to the miners is that amount to a refusal to grant authority to sign agreements carrying anything less than original demands.

It would seem that unless some other arrangement is arrived at there is little hope of final agreement being reached by April 1.

Whether or not this means cessation of operation depends upon whether an understanding may be reached, whereby operations will continue under the old agreement pending further negotiations, or until it becomes apparent that an agreement cannot be arrived at or until negotiations are finally consummated favorably.

The new turn of events does not necessarily mean breakers ahead. The prevailing opinion is that those who should know seems to be that the action of the unions is merely in way of jockeying for position. To illustrate, each different local union adopted a schedule which it desired to have incorporated in new agreement with the sign operator affected. These were all taken by the district board and a composite draft made. To the various schedules the board added an average of twenty per cent in wages or prices. This was done, and it is stated that the board admitted, in order that the union representatives at the conference might have something to trade on, and without expectation of insuring upon the increase or at least the whole of it. When the proposal was submitted it was expected the operators would come back with a counter-proposal, but, instead, they demanded to see the authority of the delegates to sign agreements. Having shown theirs, the delegates wanted the operators to do so, but they were likely to be rejected by the international president, Lewis, and the only thing that remained for them to do was to make a show of resistance and asking for proper authority. They did so with the above results. It is stated that the board suggested that actions be taken by unions on Sunday week in order to assist the delegates in their efforts to get a proposal from the operators and not because there was any intention of insisting on the original demand, because the unions would not grant authority to sign at what they considered the proper time.

As this phase of the situation is likely to be pretty well understood by the operators when the conference again convenes there is a possibility that in time they may consent to submit a proposition. In such an event there is at least a possibility of final agreement being reached before the end of the month, but if operators insist on the eight to have delegates accredited with power to sign before they will treat, there will be a chance of new agreements being perfectly before the old ones expire. In that case there will be one of two things to be done—to continue under old agreements pending negotiations or to close the mines.

the interment had taken place. He immediately arranged with the undertaker to raise the body and take it in a better class of coffin than that provided by the hospital, and gave a cheque for $50 in payment therefor. The interment was to take place on Friday, in the presence of Rev. J. W. Morrow, A. E. Whiffin and F. R. Moore, on arriving at the cemetery the party found that the body had been transferred to the new grave. The case, in which it had been placed, bore a rough appearance, and Mr. Whiffin asked if there was an inner coffin in the case. Moore is alleged to have answered in the affirmative but his nervousness caused comment on the way back to the city. Pressing business had kept Mr. Foster from going to the cemetery but the suspicion of the family were communicated to him immediately on their return. The grave digger says that Moore had asked him to dig a grave for Wednesday, a foot deeper than usual, as he had two coffins to go into the same grave. When the undertaker arrived at the cemetery he brought only one coffin and stated that the other body had been shipped to Basel, and the interment was duly performed.

When the arrangement was made with Mr. Foster, Moore took the gravedigger to the cemetery, and on the coffin being raised and opened, the latter was astonished to find that two bodies had been packed into it, head to feet, stark naked, with only a sheet over them.

Not being aware of the enormity of the offence, Hilary said nothing about it in the city, and made no complaint against Moore on being remunerated for his job is not having the job of digging the extra

EMPLOYEES WILL ALL BE RETAINED

The Bulletin employed the largest staff of any newspaper or job printing office between Winnipeg and the coast. A total of 70 employees were on the pay roll, including editors, news reporters, linotype operators, pressmen, printers and a staff in charge of the lettering and book-binding department. A few of the employees will be let out of work, but only temporarily. The entire staff employed in getting out the newspaper is at work to-day. The job room staff is engaged clearing up the debris. The Bulletin's first effort will be to keep all its employees in work, and thus obviate any hardship which the calamity might be expected to impose on them.

was caused by an electric wire between the ceiling of the press room and the floor of the newspaper composing room above. A whole area of ceiling and floor was burned out near the southeast corner of the building, showing that the fire was fiercest at this place. It could not have started from below at this point as there were only bare brick walls to conduct it, and as only type, linotype stones and forms were also no spontaneous combustion could have occurred there. This was the only part of the floor and ceiling that was burned out, the rest being completely consumed.

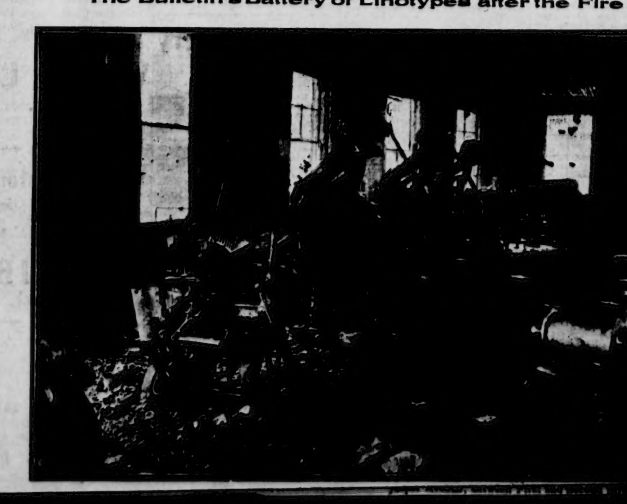

DANGER UNFOUNDED.

The gasoline tank that fed the burners of the typesetting machines remained intact, not catching, and no explosion, and was emptied after the fire was extinguished, so that inflammable material had nothing to do with the fire or its origin.

THE GOLDEN RULE APPLIED

The Bulletin appears to-day with a brave front. Sunday's tragedy has not hurried us completely, and from the ruins The Bulletin will rise stronger and greater than ever. It would not be characteristic of The Bulletin were its staff to go into seclusion, wring its hands and mourn its loss and wait for Providence to provide the office with the means of leasing the paper.

That we will not miss publication, however, is due to the ready and practical sympathy proffered by our contemporaries. The Journal generously offered us the use of their type setting machines. The Courier de l'Ouest placed their press at our disposal and the other printing offices of the city on their own initiative, granted the use of the type, which appears in the advertisements.

The Bulletin in its hour of affliction finds itself not without friends, friends whose sympathy is expressed not only in words but in deeds.

Our gratitude is great. It is such that in the event of a similar catastrophe overtaking any one of the other city offices, it will be The Bulletin's first interest to give what assistance is within its power. At the same time the loss we can wish for our contemporaries is that the necessity for the return of the favor which has been done the Bulletin, may never arise.

Strathcona.

CAPITAL'S CUBBER GO AFTER THE CUP.

Six risks of Edmonton curlers will cross to Strathcona this afternoon in an effort to secure the Pictorial Cup from the southern devotees of the "roarin' game."

The miniature bonspiel will commence at two o'clock and two risks will then go on the ice from each city. The second games will be called at two o'clock and the third at three o'clock at the Strathcona House, at seven.

LOCAL

Mrs. W. H. Sheppard will not receive during March or April.

P. G. Lenney, of Lancelot, was in Strathcona the latter part of last week.

Mr. J. Detrich has occupied one of the stores recently constructed on Main street by Jeremiah Hall.

The Strathcona Minstrels, including a number of prominent fair makers, will give a concert in Walter's Hall on Tuesday evening.

F. W. Gibbs, manager of the Blackman-Kee Co. mill at Calgary, was in the city last week for several days.

The pulpit of the Baptist church was occupied yesterday morning by Rev. W. F. Stackhouse, western secretary of Missions. Mr. Stackhouse is a more than ordinarily forceful speaker and his able address yesterday morning was listened to by a large audience.

At the Baptist church yesterday afternoon Walter L. Hall, an international temperance worker, made an address to a good audience including a large number of the Sunday school children. Mr. Hall is an eloquent speaker. The lecture was under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

A method of advertising that proved fairly effective was inaugurated by the management of the Strathcona rink. A number of boys were sent around with bells proclaiming that a hockey game between Strathcona and Battledford would take place at nine o'clock. The announcement was altogether unexpected, as such a thing was not even dreamed of, but there was a large crowd on time at the rink.

BATTLEFORD WINS GAME

Despite the short run of only an hour and a half one of the largest crowds of the season gathered in the Strathcona rink yesterday night at half past nine to witness the hockey match which had been arranged between North Battledford and Strathcona teams owing to the dispute in the choice of a referee for the game to have been played in Edmonton.

Those who were present included many from Edmonton, and a large contingent of North Battledford. The game was a very close one, the age of hockey loving public of these cities. All were amply repaid for their attendance as they saw one of the best contents played in Strathcona during the winter season.

Battledford was strengthened by their captain, Kent, who was not present in the first game, and they also had a further aid with their new rover, Charlton.

Strathcona was without the services of Alf Kent, who was not in the city, but McArthur, their speedy left wing, was out again after a temporary absence from the team in the first half Strathcona was easily outplayed by the team from the north.

The second half brought out much better hockey and Strathcona succeeded in nothing up five to Battledford's three—making the total 9 to 6.

The exhibition game of clever stick handling in individual and combination plays by Battledford was undoubtedly the best seen here this season. Every man seemed to understand his position and it was the opinion of many that a much larger score might have been notched up.

For Strathcona clearly the game was fast work, and his individual dashes in the second half were spectacular features of the game. On the visitors' line Bennett was their foremost star and a large number of the goals were placed to his credit.

Strathcona's defence showed up better than usual and both McLean and Hatt were placed to excellent advantage both aggressively and defensively. Bennett was a little off color in the first half but did much better in the second.

There was very little apparently in the game, only three goals being handed but during the evening and those were for minor reasons.

The line-up was as follows:

Battledford 9. Strathcona 6.
Butt goal. Hamilton.
McDonald point. Hatt.
McLean rover. McArthur.
Charlton rover. Hamilton.
Hewitt centre. Hatt.
Kent wing. McLean.
Tobin H. wing. McArthur.

Goal Umpires—C. Barrett and H. Laidlaw.

A temporarily unfortunate incident was the going out of the electric lights just as the game was about to start. This necessitated a delay of ten minutes during which the rink was illuminated only by candles lighted in various parts.

The incident was explained as the second half of the game was about to commence but Electrician Kelly was again in evidence and soon had the lights in

30,000 MEN MAY STRIKE

Employees of 40 railways want shorter hours.

Special to the Bulletin.
Chicago, Mar. 18.—Thirty thousand of the 55,000 railway trainmen employed on 40 railway systems west of Chicago are declared to have decided in favor of a strike unless their demands for a decrease in hours is granted unconditionally by the railway managers in Chicago next week. Two Battleford Men Killed by Locomotive.

Which Backed Down on them while they were Driving on C.N.R. Track

North Battleford, March 17.—While driving in a ditch along C.N.R. tracks Saturday night, Jas. Anderson and John McLaughlin were run down and killed by a backing engine, three miles east of town. Anderson died instantly. McLaughlin lived six hours. The men were going home driving on the track to escape the snow block. The engine was backing and running rapidly. It is thought the men did not hear the engine coming from behind. The crew of the engine found Anderson manhandled and dead. One of the horses was killed. McLaughlin was breathing. With the fireman holding the two bodies on the pilot, rapid run to town was made. The men were neighboring homesteaders both about 40 years old, married, and with large families. Anderson was a half breed, originally from Prince Albert. McLaughlin was a last year's lacrosse team.

Both steamers, on being inspected and found clear of disease, came up and docked about 8 o'clock. The Ionian brought 34 saloons, 221 second class and 830 steerage passengers, and they were landed first. The Sardinian landed 122 second and 397 steerage passengers. The spring rush of immigration has now opened and all the steamers are looked full.

The case against Walter Henry, for obtaining money under false pretences will come up at the Police Court this afternoon.

A meeting will be held in the Council Chamber on Wednesday night at eight o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Humane Society.

D. Blayney goes to Red Deer on Wednesday to attend the Temperance Convention. There will be about twenty delegates from Edmonton.

Mayor Griesbach goes to Leduc on Friday where he will address the Board of Trade. His subject will be "Fire Protection and the organization of Fire Brigades."

At the Building Inspector's office this forenoon permits were taken out for dwellings by A. J. McMahon on Fourth Street, and Arthur Edge on Donald St. The costs are $1000 and $1200.

A runaway horse and cutter tore down Jasper yesterday, after leaving the cutter on the flats near Fraser's mills returned up town. The rig was owned by Mr. M. Groat.

Mr. Howard Haywood delivered an address tonight at Mackay Avenue School Assembly Hall in aid of the public school piano fund. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Buley will attend.

A very interesting lecture was given by Mr. Ernest Brodeur Friday night in St. Paul's Church on behalf of the Sunday School of that parish. The lecture, "Scenes from Our Homeland and Canada" was splendidly illustrated by lantern views.

Ald. Thos. Daly has disposed of his interest in the commercial business of Daly, Granger & Co. Messrs. H. O. Granger and Harlan will continue the business. Ald. Daly's reason for selling was that his other business interests would not permit of giving the attention to the real estate business which it required.

Public Schools Entertainment.

A splendid picture program has been prepared for the entertainment which is to be given in the Mackay Avenue Assembly Hall this Monday evening by Mr. Howard Haywood on behalf of the piano fund. Interesting scenes of Scotland, England, Canada and the United States will be exhibited, forming a picture tour through parts of the British Empire. The pictures descriptive of Edmonton and surroundings, include city and farm life, river scenes, picturesque spots of a charming nature, gold and silver, sporting and bush scenes, besides many other pictures of an interesting character. The exhibition will begin at 8 o'clock sharp.

Prominent Citizen Offers $5,000 Towards Public Library.

Mayor Griesbach announces that a prominent citizen of the city has offered to donate $5,000 toward a public library for the city, provided four other gentlemen contribute like amounts. Under an act passed recently a library may be secured by petitioning the Council of any Municipality which must then submit a by-law. If this by-law is assented to by three-fifths majority of the vote cast the Council must

The Hockey Dispute.

There was considerable disappointment when it was announced on the street, Saturday night, that the Battleford-Edmonton hockey match had been called off on account of a disagreement over a referee. There was promise of an immense crowd and hundreds came to the rink only to learn that the game was off.

It is difficult to ascertain who is responsible for the disappointment as the statements of the principals differ materially on an essential point, viz.: Whether Raftt of Strathcona was agreed upon as referee Friday night's game.

Secretary Chauvin in a statement asserts that Manager Griffith and Capt. Powers are both prepared to take their affidavits to the effect that they told the Battleford committee they would not agree to Raftt. Several other names from Strathcona were suggested but the matter was left over. Mr. Chauvin also states that Manager Kennedy acted most unfairly in refusing to discuss the matter, and stating if they did not have Raftt they wouldn't play at all; also in stating that either the Battleford or the hockey team had robbed the visitors of part of the proceeds of first game, and when pressed for proof said "some one told me so."

Manager Kennedy says he had been informed that Raftt was the most fair and impartial official and about 5.30 on Friday evening Messrs. Griffith and Powers had agreed to accept him if Mr. Kennedy would have Dobson or McLean, Strathcona, or Elliott, Edmonton, as judge of play. This Mr. Kennedy and three others are prepared to certify by affidavit.

On Saturday afternoon at another meeting Edmonton declined to accept Raftt and later notified him by letter that they would not accept him in any official capacity, and if arrangements were not made by six the game would be called off.

No arrangements were made and the Strathcona game took place instead.

Kenora Wins.

In the first play off game Saturday night at Winnipeg between Kenora and Brandon for the western championship the former won 5 to 6. The final game will be played to-night. The Montreal Wanderers are now at Winnipeg awaiting their games for the Stanley Cup.

Games Tonight and Tomorrow

An agreement has been drawn up between Edmonton and North Battleford for the hockey matches tonight and tomorrow night. The officials for both games will be Dr. Strong, referee; H. R. Dobson, Strathcona, judge of play. The Battleford team will receive 25 per cent. of the gross proceeds and the referee's decision in all cases will be final.

Nearly Another Hitch

Another hitch was narrowly but fortunately avoided in connection with the hockey match to night between Edmonton and Battleford. This time the rink management took a hand and refused to allow the games to proceed in the rink unless they were guaranteed their percentage of the receipts.

An arrangement was ultimately arrived at and everything is again satisfactory for the contest.

The Battleford team will be the same as appeared at Strathcona on Saturday night, Kent and Charlton replacing two of the men in Thursday's game.

The personal of the Edmonton team has not been given out but there is a rumor that there may be at least one surprise in the line up.

MARESH CASE IS DISMISSED

Counter Charge preferred by the Defendant Against Frank Mikota, the prosecutor

The case against John Maresch, held on a charge of rape by Mrs. Mikota, was dismissed at the Police Court after the defendant had received a very severe lecture by the Magistrate, C. H. Stuart Wed.

The three charges which had been preferred have taken up the attention of the Court for thirty-two sittings and the evidence consists ninety-eight sheets of closely written foot-cop. The only case in which there was sufficient evidence to merit the defendant being sent up to the Supreme Court was that against General who will have

As a sequel to the prosecution of the parties who have been arraigned, Maresch has preferred a charge against Frank Mikota for stealing of a letter addressed to him which Mikota admitted having taken out of the Post office. The crime is a pretty serious one, the maximum punishment being imprisonment for life and the minimum three years.
